A BILL

To require the Federal Communications Commission to study the feasibility of designating a simple, easy-to-remember dialing code to be used for a national suicide prevention and mental health crisis hotline system.

1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representa-
2 tives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

1 SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

2 This Act may be cited as the “National Suicide Hot-
3 line Improvement Act of 2017”.

4 SEC. 2. FINDINGS.

5 Congress finds the following:

6 (1) According to the National Center for Health
7 Statistics, suicide rates in the United States have 8 surged to their highest levels in nearly 30 years.

9 (2) The overall suicide rate rose by 24 percent
10 from 1999 to 2014.

11 (3) The National Suicide Prevention Lifeline
12 (~~1-800-273-TALK [8255]~~), created under the lead-13 ership of the Center for Mental Health Services of 14 the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services
15 Administration (commonly known as “SAMHSA”),
16 is a network of 161 crisis centers that provide a toll-
17 free hotline 24 hours a day, 7 days a week to anyone
18 experiencing a mental health or suicidal emergency
19 or crisis.

20 (4) In 1967, the President’s Commission on 21 Law Enforcement and Administration of Justice re-
22 commended the creation of a single telephone number
23 that could be used nationwide for reporting emer-
24 gencies.

25 (5) In 1968, the Federal Communications Com-
26 mission agreed upon the number 9-1-1, one of eight

1 N11 dialing codes, as a simple, easy-to-remember
2 telephone number to be the dedicated number for re-3 porting emergencies, and 9-1-1 became the national 4 emergency number for individuals in the United 5 States to access police, fire, and ambulance services.

6 (6) Based on the success of the 9-1-1 nation-
7 wide emergency number, a study by the Federal 8 Communications Commission regarding the use of a
9 simple, easy-to-remember dedicated 3-digit dialing
10 code for a suicide prevention and mental health cri-
11 sis hotline system would be beneficial in the preven-
12 tion of suicide nationwide.
